

Ángela Vergara Jaller

Acting Vice president of Risks

Industrial Engineer from Universidad Nacional de Colombia, with a Specialization in Corporate Finance from the Escuela de Ingeniería de Antioquia, with more than 20 years of professional experience, 14 of them in the Colombian energy sector and the provision of utility services with emphasis on the implementation of business risk management systems and financial analysis of investment options.

Between 2001 and 2010 she worked as an Investment Risk Analyst at PROTECCION S.A., a pension fund management company. In 2010 she joined EPM, where she served as Financial Analyst and Director of Risk Engineering and had the opportunity to lead the implementation of the Risk Management System in the EPM Group in the different business units and key infrastructure projects, among which is the Ituango hydroelectric plant.

Between 2021 and 2023 she developed her professional skills as Director of Corporate Risks at ISA Interconexión Eléctrica S.A. E.S.P. leveraging the implementation of the Risk Management System, business continuity management and the assessment of emerging risks. He has participated as a principal member of the Boards of Directors of EPM Inversiones, EP Río (a company merged with EPM), Afinia and a member of the supervisory committee of EPM's Private Equity Fund I.

She currently serves as Acting Vice President of Risks.