

Ituango Hydroelectric Project Insurance

Last March 24, EPM received from the insurance company Mapfre the terms for the renewal of the insurance policy for the Ituango Hydroelectric Project (IHP), regarding all-risk coverage for installation, sabotage and terrorism, and from Seguros Generales Suramericana the terms for the extra-contractual civil liability insurance policy. These policies will become effective as of midnight on March 24, 2021. Some of these policies are subject to annual renewals, whereas others extendable until completion of the IHP.

Due to the international financial environment and the effects of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, which also affect the insurance and reinsurance industries, compounded by the complexities of the IHP itself, the main coverage for the project's assets was obtained through the continuity of the All Risk Installation coverage. EPM is currently working on obtaining coverage for the insurable risks that are not covered by this policy through other insurance policies taken out by the Company, as well as other policies that must be taken out later this year.
