The First Civil Decision Chamber of the Superior Court of Medellín filed a protection of the fundamental right to due process of Aguas Nacionales EPM S.A. E.S.P. (ANEPM), Empresas Públicas de Medellín E.S.P. (EPM) and Metropolitan Area of Valle de Aburrá, which was violated by the First Civil Circuit Court of Bello. Consequently, it annulled the precautionary measure to seize the accounts of the three plaintiffs, adopted by this Court on July 22, 2021.

The Chamber justified the constitutional protection in which the Court moved away from the provisions of the procedural order by decreeing a precautionary measure without an analysis of reasonableness, necessity or proportionality. The measure also does not contain an assessment, does not state reasons or evidence motivation or weighting for not having considered the irremediable damage with a decision that falls on assets intended for the provision of a public service. The court under guardianship also did not decide the appeals for reconsideration filed by ANEPM and EPM on August 3, 2021.
