

RELEVANT INFORMATION - ATTACHMENT

We would like to inform that along the proceedings related to the contempt incident carried against EPM's CEO (A,) John Alberto Maya Salazar, the Penal Court of the Marinilla Circuit, Consultation Chamber, has revoked the decision issued by the Municipal Mixed-Jurisdiction (Civil and Criminal) Court of San Carlos (Antioquia), which had imposed penalty for failing to comply with the order issued under this process, consisting in two (2) day detention and a fine of three (3) monthly statutory minimum wages.

The demand for restoration of fundamental rights originated in EPM's attention of a citizen's request to have energy service installed in his property located in the hamlet of La Garrucha, township of Puerto Garza, in the Municipality of San Carlos, Eastern Antioquia, which could not be attended in a satisfactory manner.

As provided by the judicial authority, the Company answered the citizen once more informing him of the impossibility of granting his request because his property was located in a road setback, thus ignoring the provisions of Law 1228 of 2008.

The appeal judge considered that the Company had abode by the order issued in the judgment related to the demand for the restoration of fundamental rights, and that consequently, the reasons giving rise to the penalty have disappeared.